

ResearchHub – Access & Track Research on Mobile & Personal Devices

An optional add-on to the ResearchMonitor usage tracking software solution from TRG Screen, ResearchHub provides a central hub for accessing research and other online enterprise subscriptions from mobile and personal devices.

Business users benefit from secure and seamless access to online subscriptions while on the move from one convenient application, without the need to log-in to each service. In the application, which can be installed on any Apple iOS and Android device, users are automatically logged into any password-protected resource through the credentials stored in ResearchMonitor's Password Management module.

Benefit from the same valuable usage tracking and reporting that you have become accustomed to with ResearchMonitor desktop devices. Usage data from ResearchHub feeds back into ResearchMonitor reports, providing valuable insight into the use of subscription services from mobile platforms.

Benefits

Improve on-demand, mobile access to research and other subscriptions

One convenient launch point to seamlessly access online enterprise subscriptions on mobile and personal devices

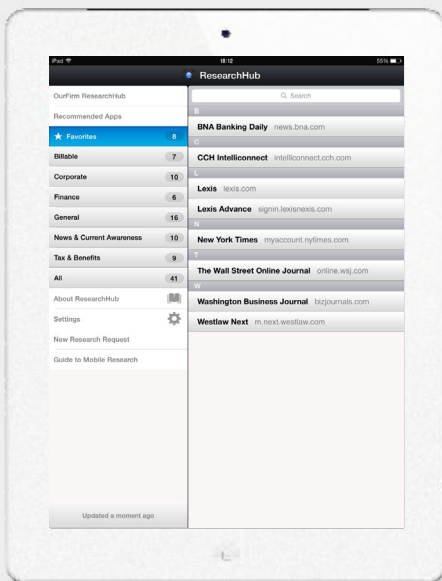

Securely manages credentials for validated access to subscription services without the need to log-in

Can integrate with a wide range of vendors and internal systems, with major research providers ready-to-go

Usage tracking feeds into ResearchMonitor monitoring, analysis and reporting tools
