

Expert service for reference data usage management

Optimize reference data spend and ensure usage compliance with Xmon – the leading solution for monitoring reference data usage in real-time.

Xmon Insights gives your team access to experts in reference data pricing models and usage agreements. It allows your business to make the most of Xmon and to swiftly respond to cost optimization, analytics and usage compliance requirements – efficiently and precisely.

The service provides intra- and end-of-month benefits delivered by a team of experts – working as an extension of your market data team, to provide intra-month, ad-hoc and end of billing cycle benefits.

How can Xmon Insights help you?

During the month

Ad-hoc data usage, costs, allocations and compliance reporting

Our team is on hand to provide answers on any aspect of your data usage by quickly performing ad hoc data extracts, analytics and reports, and generating custom reports and dashboards.

Data request cost estimation and cost simulation reports

We can run cost simulation reports – under different scenarios of your specification – giving you a complete picture to make informed decisions based on facts and backed by data.

Allocate cost per internal system on an ongoing basis

Our team is on hand to create operational workflows and tagging rules to allow fair and granular allocation of cost per internal system, with detailed consumption tracking.

Onboard, provision, monitor and control new consumers

Our team can provision consumers, saving valuable time, whilst assuring that users get the data they require in a monitored environment that ensures costs are controlled.

End of the month and billing cycle

Invoice processing and reconciliation

Our team reconciles uploaded invoices with Xmon computed data and identifies discrepancies for review – ensuring vendor agreement compliance to commercial models and cost sign off.

Cost profile analysis and spend optimization

Expert BA team analyzes spend, usage and compliance trends to identify cost optimization opportunities and provide tailored recommendations that maximize data agreements.

Regular follow-up on recommendations

Your dedicated senior analyst makes recommendations that fit your needs and are aligned with your operating model – tracked and reviewed on a monthly basis to ensure implementation and impact.

If you're looking to optimize your reference data spend and ensure compliance within your enterprise, paired with industry expert business analysis and dedicated support, we are here to help you!
